About His Daughters House

Vision Statement

Our vision is to create a trauma-informed resource network that enhances responsiveness and expands support for individuals and families facing housing instability in Riverside County.

Through this coalition, His Daughters House strives to be a safety net for housing solutions, offering a solid foundation for participants as they work toward stability and long-term self-sufficiency.

Who We Are

His Daughters House (HDH) was established in 2019 and has cultivated grassroots connections across various sectors, including spiritual institutions, non-profits, government agencies, for-profit companies, healthcare organizations, educational institutions, and other community groups to build a robust resource network within Riverside County. This network enabled HDH to identify resource gaps and create a safety-net program to address housing instability for vulnerable populations.

Core Programs and Services

- Emergency and transitional housing
- Individual and group counseling
- Youth empowerment initiatives
- Advocacy and community education
- Case Management and Resource Support

“As we at HDH work diligently to build an anchor, a solid woven safety net from materials made from compassion, wisdom, and conviction, we aim to catch those who fall between the cracks, the overlooked, the marginalized, the counted out, the burdened and almost broken so that they may bounce back up, higher than they were before and thriving better than they ever thought they would”, Dr. Adrienne Mason, CEO
